2002 CLIMATE PROTECTION AWARDS

Introduction

The Climate Protection Division of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) invites nominations for the 2002 Climate Protection Awards (see attached application form). This award program was established in 1998 to recognize exceptional leadership, personal dedication, and technical achievements in protecting the climate.

Background & Organization

The Climate Protection Awards began in 1998 and have been presented to 48 corporate, military, association and individual winners from seven countries (Brazil, Japan, the Peoples Republic of China, Sweden, Switzerland, the United Kingdom, and the United States). See Figure 1. There were no 2001 awards due to a change in the Earth Technologies Forum's date from Autumn (in 2000) to Spring (2002).

The U.S. EPA seeks nominations for outstanding leadership, personal dedication and technical achievements in reducing greenhouse gas emissions and protecting Earth's climate. Accomplishments can include stewardship, product introduction, pollution prevention, recycling, and engineering innovation.

Awards Panel and Procedure

Dr. Stephen O. Andersen, U.S. EPA, will assemble and chair an international panel of judges including representatives of previous Climate Protection Award winners. With the advice of this panel, EPA will make the final selection. The judges represent government, industry, and non-governmental organizations.

Instructions:

All applications must include an official cover letter from the nominator, a completed application form (Attachment 1), and a ½-page summary. Since the judges are unable to visit facilities, applicants are encouraged to submit supporting materials such as photographs, technical descriptions, news clippings, and press releases. Neither the application nor the supporting materials will be returned.

Applications must be mailed, faxed or e-mailed no later than August 31, 2001.

U.S. EPA CLIMATE PROTECTION AWARDS

Eligibility

- Candidates may be from anywhere in the world
- Individuals and organizations may work for the public or private sector
- Candidates may be either self-nominated or nominated by a third party

Application Process

- Candidate individuals, groups, or organizations from the public or private sector should submit a standard application form, a ½-page summary of their accomplishment, and full supporting materials

Selection Criteria

- Winners selected on the basis of originality and public purpose; persuasive, moral or organizational leadership; global perspective and implication; and actual (or equivalent) reduction in greenhouse gas emissions

Judging Process

- Applications will be screened by a panel of judges selected for expertise and mindful of geographical balance
- EPA makes the final selection of award winners

Presentation of Awards

- Winners of the 2000 Climate Protection Award will be announced during the 2002 Earth Technologies Forum in Washington, D.C.
- Award recipients will be honored at a dinner ceremony on an evening yet to be determined in March, 2002 where the Stratospheric Ozone Protection Awards will also be presented

Recipient Benefits

- Honor of winning prestigious international environmental award
- Recipients may publicize receipt of the award
